FIRE AND EXPLOSION.

Paterson, N. J., Has One That Cost the Lives of Several People.

SIXTEEN ARE KILLED

The Fire Broke Out in a Store in Which Were Fireworks, That Sent the Flames Out and Burned Several Badly

Paterson, June 22.—Sixteen people are believed to have been killed and a number injured here in a fire following a series of explosions among a quantity of fireworks in the store of Abraham M. Rittenburg. The store was on the ground floor of a 4-story frame tenement building. The cause of the explosion is not known. The property losses will exceed $35,000. The killed are: Mrs. Lunda Adamson. Mrs. Charles Williams. Charles Williams. Harold Rittenburg, 18-months-old, son of the keeper of the fireworks store. Henry Elsasser, baby. Those missing and most certainly dead are: Mrs. Bert Bamberg. Charles Bamberg, 6-months-old, child of Mrs. Bamberg. Mrs. Andrew Elvin. Mrs. Mary Elser. Joseph Elvin, baby of Mrs. Andrew Elvin.

Mrs. Burns. Clarence Burns, 6-year old son of Mrs. Burns. Mrs. Anna Fontemann. Mrs. Annie Lannigan. Two nephews of Mrs. Lannigan. The injured: J. Jessup, Mrs. J. Jessup, I. Bamberger, George Boder, Nicholas Hillman, Fireman Edward S. Lingland, Mr. and Mrs. John McGilone.

A number of people received minor injuries, but went to their homes. Ten families occupied flats in the building. So great was the force of the explosion that a boy playing in the street half a block away was lifted from his feet and hurled against an iron fence. One of his legs were broken. A trolley car was directly in front of the building when the explosion occurred. The burst of flame blown out into the street scorched the sides of the car and singed the hair of the passengers.

A number of those who were on the upper floors of the building when the explosion took place were either stunned and then burned to death or found escape cut off and were suffocated. Every window seemed to be emitting flame. Mrs. Williams, her clothing on fire, leaped from a window to the yard below and was killed. Her husband, a cripple, was found burned to a crisp in his bed. Some of the occupants of the rooms dropped from the windows and were bruised. Others hung from the windows until the firemen came and 20 persons were taken down in this way through fire and smoke by the firemen while others dropped into life nets. Captain Allen led with a hose line in an effort to keep the fire from the upper floors where it was said many were penned in. The men had hardly begun to throw water into the upper floor when the whole upper part of the building fell. The captain and two of his men were buried under the debris. One of the men is badly hurt. The bodies taken out thus far are almost unrecognizable.

NO YELLOW FEVER.

Havana Has Been Clear of the Disease For the Past Two Months.

Havana, June 22.—Owing to the absence of yellow fever in this city, Major Gleason of the marine hospital service corps has recommended that the quarantine be raised on passengers from Cuba destined to points north of the southern boundary of Maryland.

There has not been a fresh case of yellow fever in Havana for nearly two months and the cases which have occurred this year have been light. Neither are there any cases of yellow fever in any part of the island.

The strongest objection against admitting non-immunes from Cuba comes from the boards of health of the southern states. These boards even object to the entrance of such persons at New York, fearing that these passengers will go south before the lapse of five days.

Old Heller Discovered.

Burlington, Vt., June 22.—J. G. Falcon, a diver, has visited the spot where the schooner Royal Savage, commanded by General Benedict Arnold, was sunk in 1776 by the British. He found three gun carriages and about 30 cannon balls and shot. Two of the former will be sent to the Smithsonian Institute at Washington and the other has been given to the city of Burlington. The relics were discovered in about 30 feet of water. The carriages are made of wood and iron, the former being now petrified.

Over Half Were Children.

London, June 22.—The war secretary, Mr. Broderick, informed a questioner in the house of commons that out of 69,000 persons in the concentration of South Africa 34,000 were children.

SLAM ON AMERICA.

Mr. Schurman Says We Have No First Class Human Minds.

New York, June 22.—President Schurman of the Cornell University, is quoted in a Herald dispatch from Ithaca as saying in reply to a question regarding the statements in his commencement address concerning American intellectual barrenness in certain directions: "It is undoubtedly true that in America there have been no first class creative productions of the human mind."

"We are living on Europe for the best there is in poetry, art, literature and science and the danger is that we are apt to be content to go on living so and neglect to use our own creative instincts. Before any betterment can be expected we must come to realize that we do occupy an inferior place in this sphere of culture. We must forget that in many things we lead the old world and this is the hardest thing for us to do."

"I believe that the hope of the country is in its colleges and universities. If universities and their professors realize our secondary place in first class science, they will themselves be moved to greater effort in the direction of the highest in science, literature and art. It is impossible to say how many generations it would take to put America in her proper position. It may take 50 years or it may take 500."

Dr. Henry Van Dyke, head of the English department at Princeton, is quoted by a Tribune correspondent as saying in an interview upon President Schurman's utterances: "On the general proposition that America is intellectually inferior to Europe, I would first question the fact and then confess my inability to explain the cause. It seems to me that there is nothing being done in England at present either in the way of criticism, fiction, or poetry which is superior to what is being done in this country, with the possible exception of Stephen Philip, in dramatic literature, which is of great promise. At the present moment fiction is the leading form of literature activity, and here we can hold our own with England beyond question. In criticism it would also be easy to name at least four Americans whose work is not excelled in England."

FIRED INTO THE TRAIN.
A Mob at Trinity Eddied the Coaches Bearing the Soldiers and Negro. Houston, June 22.—The special train bearing troops from Trinity has arrived here riddled with bullets. The cavalry arrived at Trinity and at once relieved the siege of the Light Guard who were kept in the schoolhouse with the armed mob, forming a cordon. The beleaguered soldiers marched back to the train with the negro Levi Spencer in their midst and boarded it without molestation, but as the train pulled out the mob fired several volleys at the train. The soldiers returned the fire and report at three of the mob hit. There are reports from Trinity to confirm this. The mob was taken to the penitentiary at Huntsville for safe keeping and the soldiers returned home.

June 22.—A special dispatch from London to the World announced that J. Pierpont Morgan has made the greatest art purchase. He has bought for $1,000,000 the famous group "Lady Delma" and "The Earl of Carlisle" by the painter Sir Joshua Reynolds.

He bought the picture condensed, sketched by Wethermer, the most corkish stands high among the most perfect pieces of hands Storage Room for room nine years ago built and Morgan is now said to four tons cost for it. Reynolds painted it for Lady Delma, who was the then Earl of Carlisle, and a great beauty. Reynolds received $1050 for it.

More Trouble Expected.
Matewan, W. Va., June 22.—More trouble is imminent here. Striking miners are marching around the entrances, many carrying Winchester. All coal operations are closed, but the operators will endeavor to resume Monday with non-union men. Friday evening a skirmish occurred in which 100 shots were fired. Only few were injured and none were killed. Sheriff Hatfield and a large force of deputies are at the Lick Forks mines where it is feared an attempt may be made to destroy property. Governor White has not yet been called on for the state militia, but his aid may be asked at any time.

Boer General Sentenced.

Cape Town, June 22.—The treason court, which is sitting at Burgersdorp, sentenced Commandant Strydom to two years' imprisonment at hard labor. He led a commando in the battle at Stromberg in the early part of the war and was an exceedingly active Cape rebel. Acting Vice Commandant Kotze, another Cape rebel, was fined £250.

The Eagle is going to open up at the proper season upon the subject of growing vegetables and fruits for market. We want to see a systematic move inaugurated in time to insure the planting of potatoes, peas, beans, onions cucumbers etc., for market in car lots another season. Examples multiply to show the adaptability of our section for the business, and also the profit there is in it. The way to go at it is to organize an association and investigate the subject thoroughly the coming fall and winter, then be ready for spring planting with a system that will insure car load shipments. Let different members of the association agree to plant so much of certain things as will guarantee car loads of the different articles. The railroads will furnish refrigerator cars and help find the markets too. An association such as was organized at Wellborn two years ago is the thing to have. That was a failure only on account of the unusual floods of rain in the spring, which will not come once in a long while, in fact, and truck growing will pay well in this section. We must get it going this year.

PRACTICAL BOLL WEEVIL TALK.

A reporter of The Eagle had a conversation with Mr. Scrimshire, a merchant of Millican, and was so much impressed with his ideas about the boll weevil fight that we feel impelled to print the substance of the interview.

Mr. Scrimshire detailed a conversation he had with a wholesale merchant of Houston last December. This gentleman told Mr. Scrimshire that the weevil would be in Brazos and adjoining counties in full force this summer, and told just how bad the pest is, and how big a fight it would take to make a half crop. He said he had spent a great deal of time for two seasons in the weevil district where he had interests, and had fought the weevil with all conceivable means, and had learned a great deal about the weevil, also incidentally, about human nature.

He said the main reliance to make a crop of cotton will be found to be the picking of fallen squares, and burning them. He did not discourage poisoning, saying that it might do some good, and every one killed will help that much, but poisoning alone never saved a crop. The way to proceed is to take cotton picking sacks in the field, all hands, every child on the place, especially, and go through the cotton, picking up every square and having a bonfire of them. The weevils that first hatch out in the spring die and disappear shortly, (they are about all gone now,) but they leave their eggs deposited in cotton squares by the thousands, and when these squares are allowed to remain and hatch out the second crop of weevils, then the game is up. He says that a farmer who carefully destroys all the fallen squares in his own cotton gets the benefit, no matter if he has a neighbor with cotton that joins his, who does not do so. The weevils that hatch out in the other man's cotton find plenty to employ them right in the place hatched out, and do not go to other fields. He saw this demonstrated repeatedly in the south Texas boll weevil district, and knows it to be true.

The Houston merchant said that there are farmers in every community who will discourage the fight on the weevil, and their influence will be felt, causing many people to lose their crops, who might have saved them. This cannot be avoided, however, and must be contended with, but the man who will fight the weevils by picking up squares diligently and burning them can save his cotton and make a full crop. The squares that fall can be spared, for cotton usually overloads a little, and if the first squares that fall are all burned and none that subsequently fall are lost, a good crop of cotton will be made.

Mr. Scrimshire said he did not fully credit or appreciate this talk at the time, but now he sees that every word he heard is true. Mr. Scrimshire believes that by making a close hunt for fallen forms with pick sacks, many farmers may make a fair crop; but says just now, the way people are doing things look pretty blue.

A BIT OF SYLVAN GOSSIP.

Dame Nature oft invites me And I dearly love to go Down into the flower-scented vale Where cool, sweet waters flow, And the lark of russet hue All day delights to sing. There I meet with the golden train— The birds—the fair young spring, And her maid of honor—the violet— Who coyly 'neath the trees, Is wooed in softest whispers By the gentle evening breeze.

Sometimes I leave behind me The noise of the town And on the grassy velvet turf I gladly throw me down. There alone in the forest Where all is calm and still, Save the love-call of the dove, perhaps Or the song of whip-poor-will— Or the motion of the daffodils As they gently, softly blow And the laughing of the brooklet As seaward it doth flow—

I listen to the secrets Dame Nature tells me there— Of the joys and griefs of the flowers That bloom here sweet and fair. 'Tis said that once a primrose hung Her pretty head and died Just because a pure, white lily Growing in beauty by her side Was loved of a pearly dewdrop That was her heart's desire, And to see it lie on another's breast— She rather wished to expire.

And that one bright summer day, In the very same shady nook, That jolly, impudent fellow, The ever babbling brook, Kissed an innocent narcissus Who peeped shyly o'er his side, To glimpse her fair reflection— (Her beauty was her pride)— Kissed her! the saucy scamp! And then went running by, Heedless the frown of an oak tree, That shook with a tremulous sigh, As a leaf from the top Of her venerable old head, At the sight of his rudeness. Actually dropped quite dead; And o'er the flaunting daisy's cheek, With shame was slightly flushed, And the lark in indignation, His anthem, suddenly hushed.

And once in the violet vale, Quite a conflict there grew Out of which of two flowers, The fairest was of hue— Just as in two lines of battle Were drawn up these terrible foes. Some wearing the daisy's colors, Some those of the gay primrose. From the limb of an oak near by An owl began to hoot: "Silence, naughty children! I'll settle this difficulty! The daisy is too yellow. The primrose far too pink; Hence the violet sweet is queen Of glendome, don't you think? Then a party was announced At the home of Miss Buttercup, To which all were invited, And there they all made up. —ROSE FOUNTAIN HOWELL.

The Eagle cannot refrain from again commending the people of Bryan and College, and such others as have subscribed to the fair fund, upon the liberality which has been shown following upon two years of crop failure and the somewhat dubious outlook at present in consequence of the boll weevil. The people of Bryan have learned well the lesson of enterprise and they are sure to reap their reward in a larger measure of prosperity in the future than they have ever known in the past.

The band had a concert in the court house yard, and played some choice collections. The band is improving all the time, and is now about as good as that of any town in the state.

NICARAGUAN CANAL.

The English Cabinet Is Considering Clayton-Bulwer Matter.

INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN

England Is Anxious to Have the Cana-Built, But Does Not Want the Treaty Abrogated and Will Protest Against It.

London, June 22.—In a tentative, easy-going sort of way the cabinet has begun to consider the Nicaragua treaty matter. Lord Pauncefoot has explained many things to Lord Lansdowne, foreign secretary, and the latter is once more grappling with the problem. It is needless to say the foreign office has no intention of hurrying and in the course of a month or so it may come to a decision. This will take the form of instructions to Lord Pauncefoot, who will return to the United States. Their instructions will probably not be officially communicated to the state department until congress shall convene or the attitude of the senate in the matter be definitely known. Lord Pauncefoot will probably be permitted to interpret his instructions pretty broadly and they show signs of being elastic enough to provide for any contingency, except a direct refusal on the part of the state to recognize the validity of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty.

Lansdowne is as peristent as ever on this point and however willing he may be to abrogate it, he will vigorously maintain the potentiality of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty until such a time as both signatories shall have agreed to its abrogation.

A high official in the course of a conversation with a representative of the Associated Press, said:

"Americans seem to think we are trying to delay the construction of the canal, but this is entirely wrong. We are just as anxious as they are to see it completed and are willing to do almost anything to further that end, but we do not like to see the treaty we made in good faith torn up like a piece of waste paper, and we will consider we are entitled to some quid pro quo for the relinquishment of our treaty rights."

A recent cable dispatch saying the Nicaragua matter had been practically settled, and Lord Pauncefoot in consequence will not return to the United States caused much amusement. It is utterly unfounded. On the highest authority the Associated Press is able to state that Lord Pauncefoot will remain ambassador to the United States for the rest of his days or as long as he cares to retain that position.

Naper Was Almost Wiped Out.

Omaha, June 22.—Dispatches from Naper, Neb., the scene of Thursday's cyclone, do not change materially the reports of Friday night. Bertha Anderson has been added to the list of killed and her mother, Mrs. August Anderson, will probably die. The dead now number 8 and the seriously injured 5. The little town of Naper is almost entirely wiped out.

Buildings Blown Down.

Butte, Neb., June 22.—A hurricane struck Lynch at 10 o'clock Thursday night and threw over several buildings.
No one was hurt. Southwest of Lynch three farm houses were blown to pieces and two persons badly injured. Everett Richard's brick house on the Niobrara was blown down and his child badly injured.

Still Searching.

Paterson, N. J., June 22.—Fireman and police are still searching in the ruins of Friday's fire, which started in Rittenberg's fireworks store on Main street. It is believed there are still a large number of bodies in the wreckage and there is a belief the total fatalities may reach 17. The injured are all doing well.

In Receiver's Hands.

Nashville, June 22.—The Nashville railway had been placed in the hands of a receiver upon the application made by the Baltimore Trust and Guarantee company, holders of $2,650,000 of the company's bonds, upon which it defaulted in payment of interest last February.

Will Return in October.

Paris, June 22.—A dispatch received here from Peking says an official proclamation has been issued there announcing the emperor will return to Peking in October, arriving at the capital by railroad from Pao Ting Fi.

Will Not Survive.

Atlanta, June 22.—There is not a thought that Dr. F. H. Kerfoot, corresponding secretary of the Baptist Home Mission board who has been ill for several weeks, will survive the day.

Earl Russell Gives Bond.

London, June 22.—In the Bow street police court here Earl Russell was committed for trial at the next session of the central criminal court on a charge of bigamy. Bail was allowed in £2000.

Sedalia's Mayor Stricken.

Sedalia, Mo., June 20.—Mayor Samuel K. Crawford sustained a stroke of paralysis and his condition is now considered extremely serious. His left side is affected, his mind clouded and he can barely articulate. His children have been summoned to his bedside.

Cut by Binder Knives.

Guthrie, O. T., June 22.—Near Lamont the 15-year-old daughter of August Fallots, who was riding the lead horse of a binder team, was thrown in front of the knives by the team running away. She hung to the reins for a long time, but they finally broke and she fell into the knives, being torn and lacerated in a terrible manner. She is alive, but will likely die.

Crazed by Pain.

Memphis, June 22.—Miss Clara Savage, aged 22, committed suicide here by putting a bullet into her brain. The young woman had been an invalid for six years, and at times suffered keenly from neuralgia. It is thought she was crazed from pain when she killed herself. The revolver used was the property of her brother.

Slowly Sinking.

Atlanta, June 22.—Dr. F. H. Kerfoot corresponding secretary of the Baptist Home Mission board is reported by his physician to be slowly sinking. He lost ground during the day and is unconscious.

If, on the other hand, you want a coffee which, in order to hide imperfections, is "highly

In every package of LION COFFEE you will find a fully illustrated and descriptive list. No housekeeper, in fact, no woman, man, boy or girl will fail to find in the list some article which will contribute to their happiness, comfort and convenience, and which they may have by
